SANCTUARY OF SCENT / ABOUT BONZA

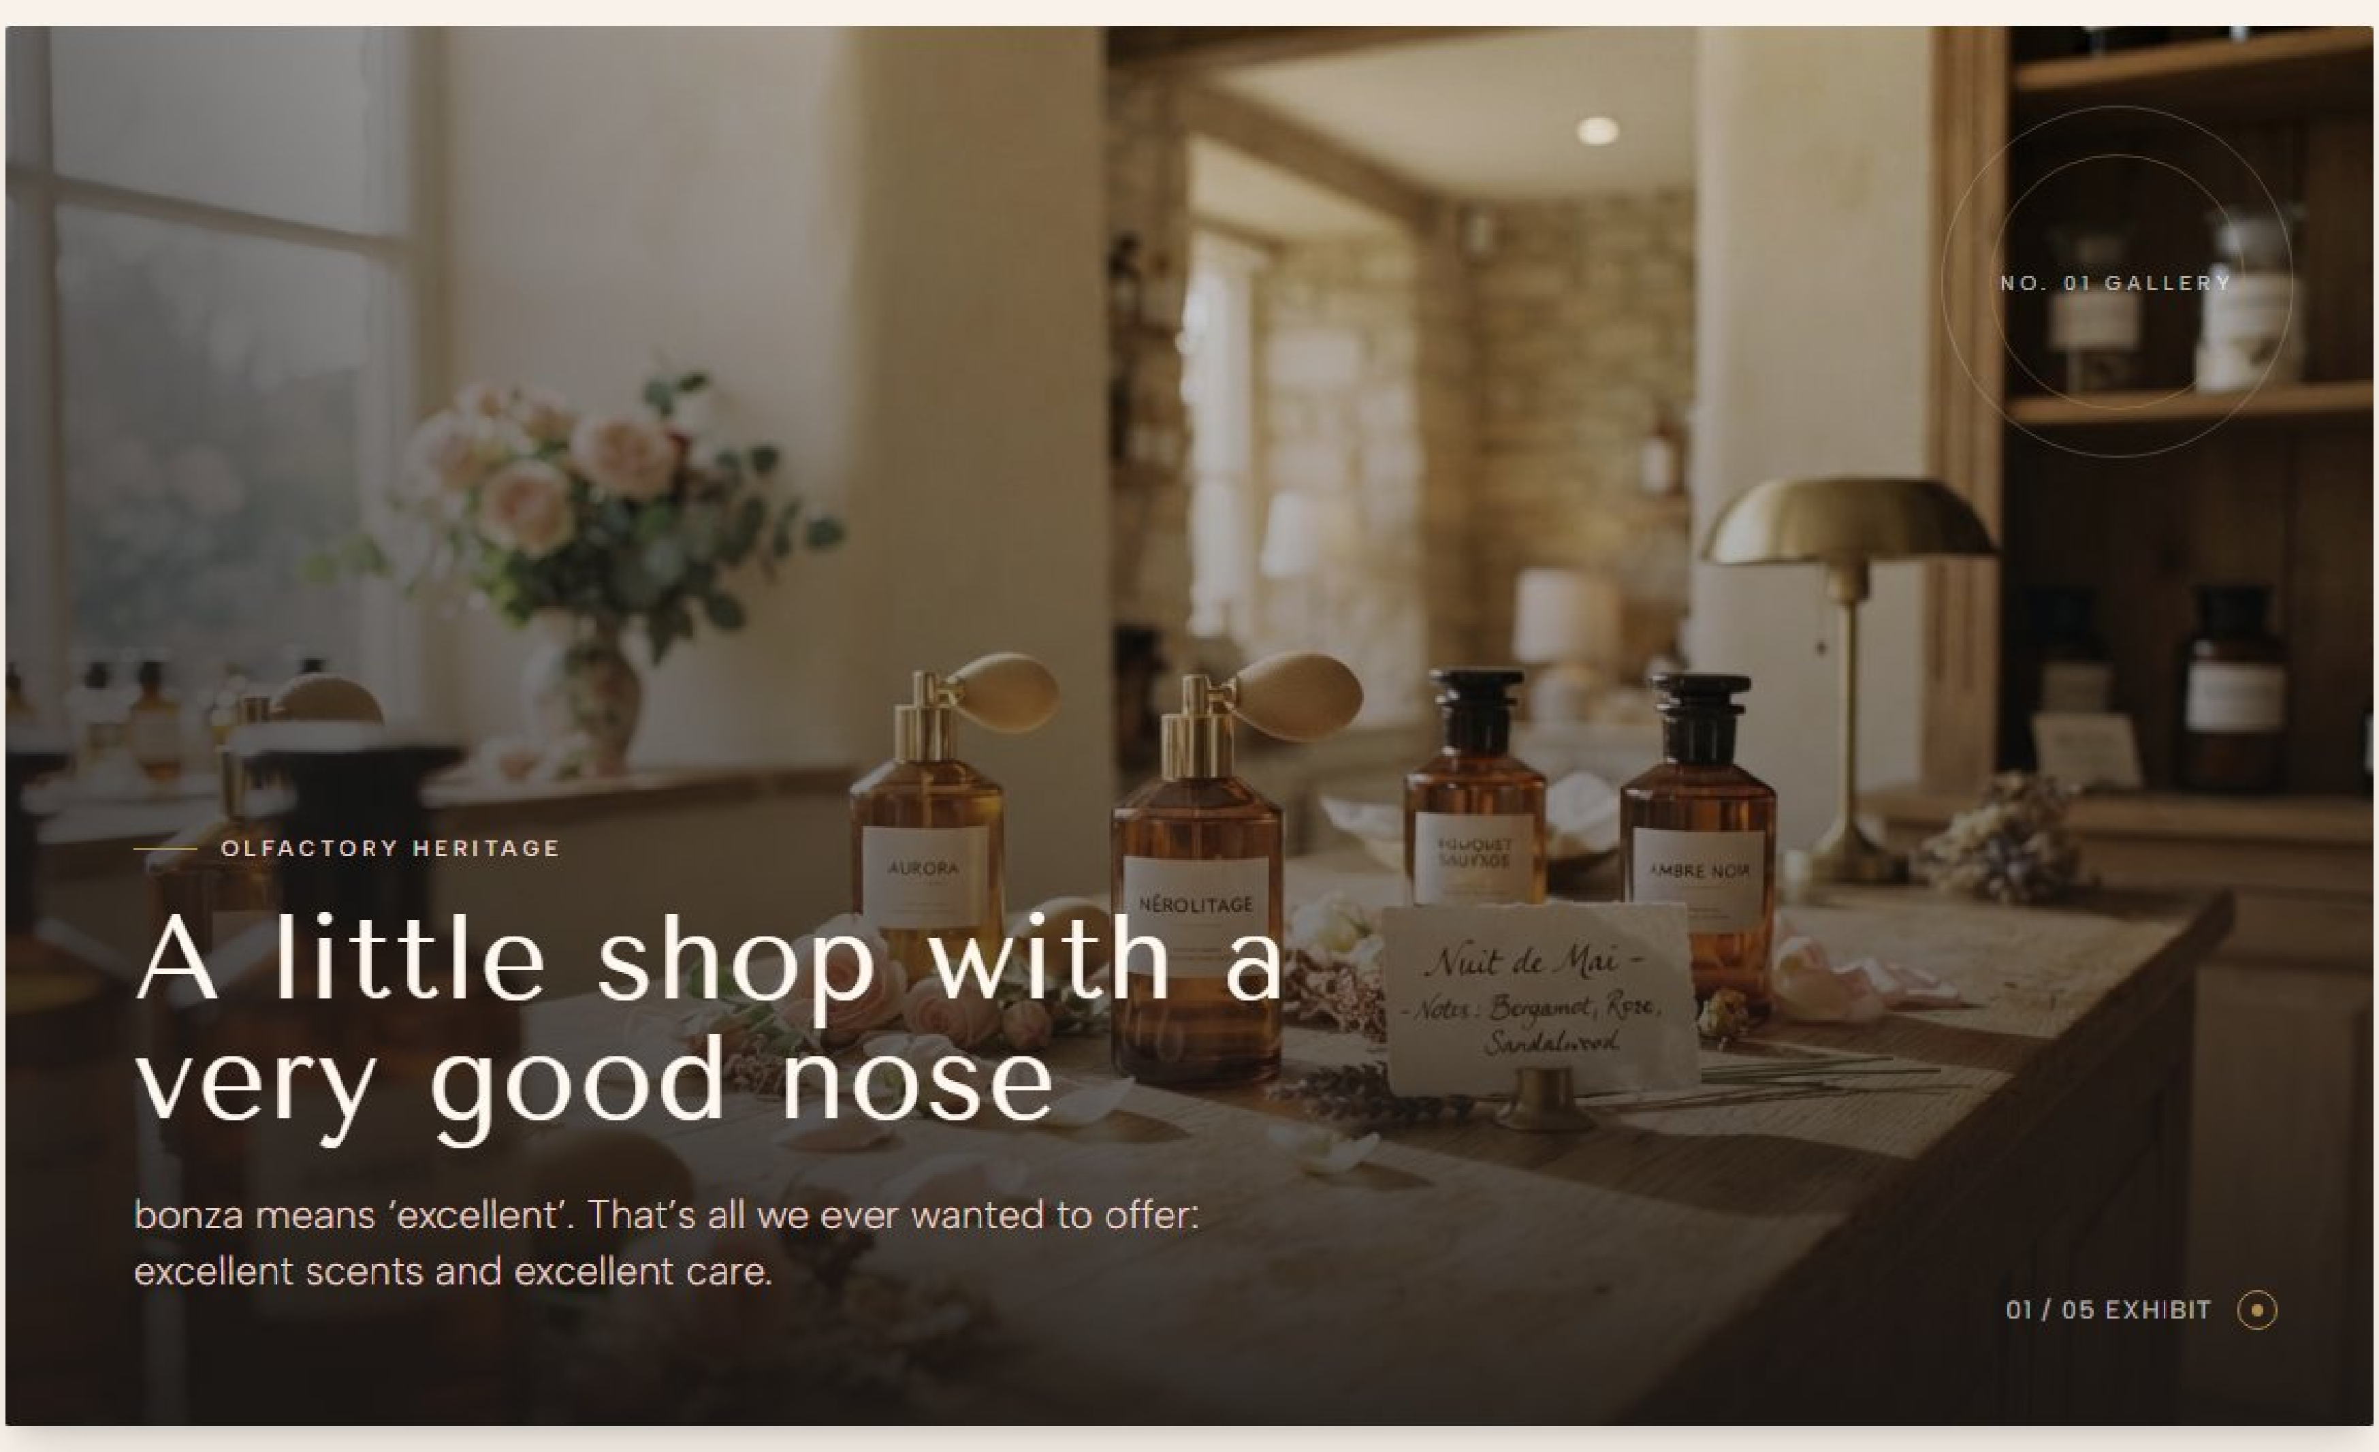
EST. 2020 • THE QUIET GALLERY



OLFACTORY HERITAGE

A little shop with a very good nose

bonza means 'excellent'. That's all we ever wanted to offer: excellent scents and excellent care.

01 / 05 EXHIBIT

FOUNDER NOSE
AMELIA HARTLEY

FIG. 01 — THE FIRST ATELIER TABLE

EST. 2020

ORIGIN & ETHOS

How bonza began

Amelia started with a single shelf and a small table of paper strips. Visitors came for a bottle and stayed for the conversation. Today we're still a small team, still in the same quiet room.

> "Fragrance shouldn't overpower or hurry you. It is a slow, intimate architecture that breathes with your own skin."
> — AMELIA HARTLEY, ON OPENING THE DOORS ON QUIET MORNING LIGHT

THE PILLAR COMMITMENTS

What we believe

Three promises behind every bottle.

01

Honest scents

We only stock what we'd wear ourselves.

INTEGRITY OF SELECTION →

02

Slow advice

No pressure, no rush, no hard sell.

ONE-ON-ONE TASTING →

03

Kind choices

Recyclable packaging and refillable options where possible.

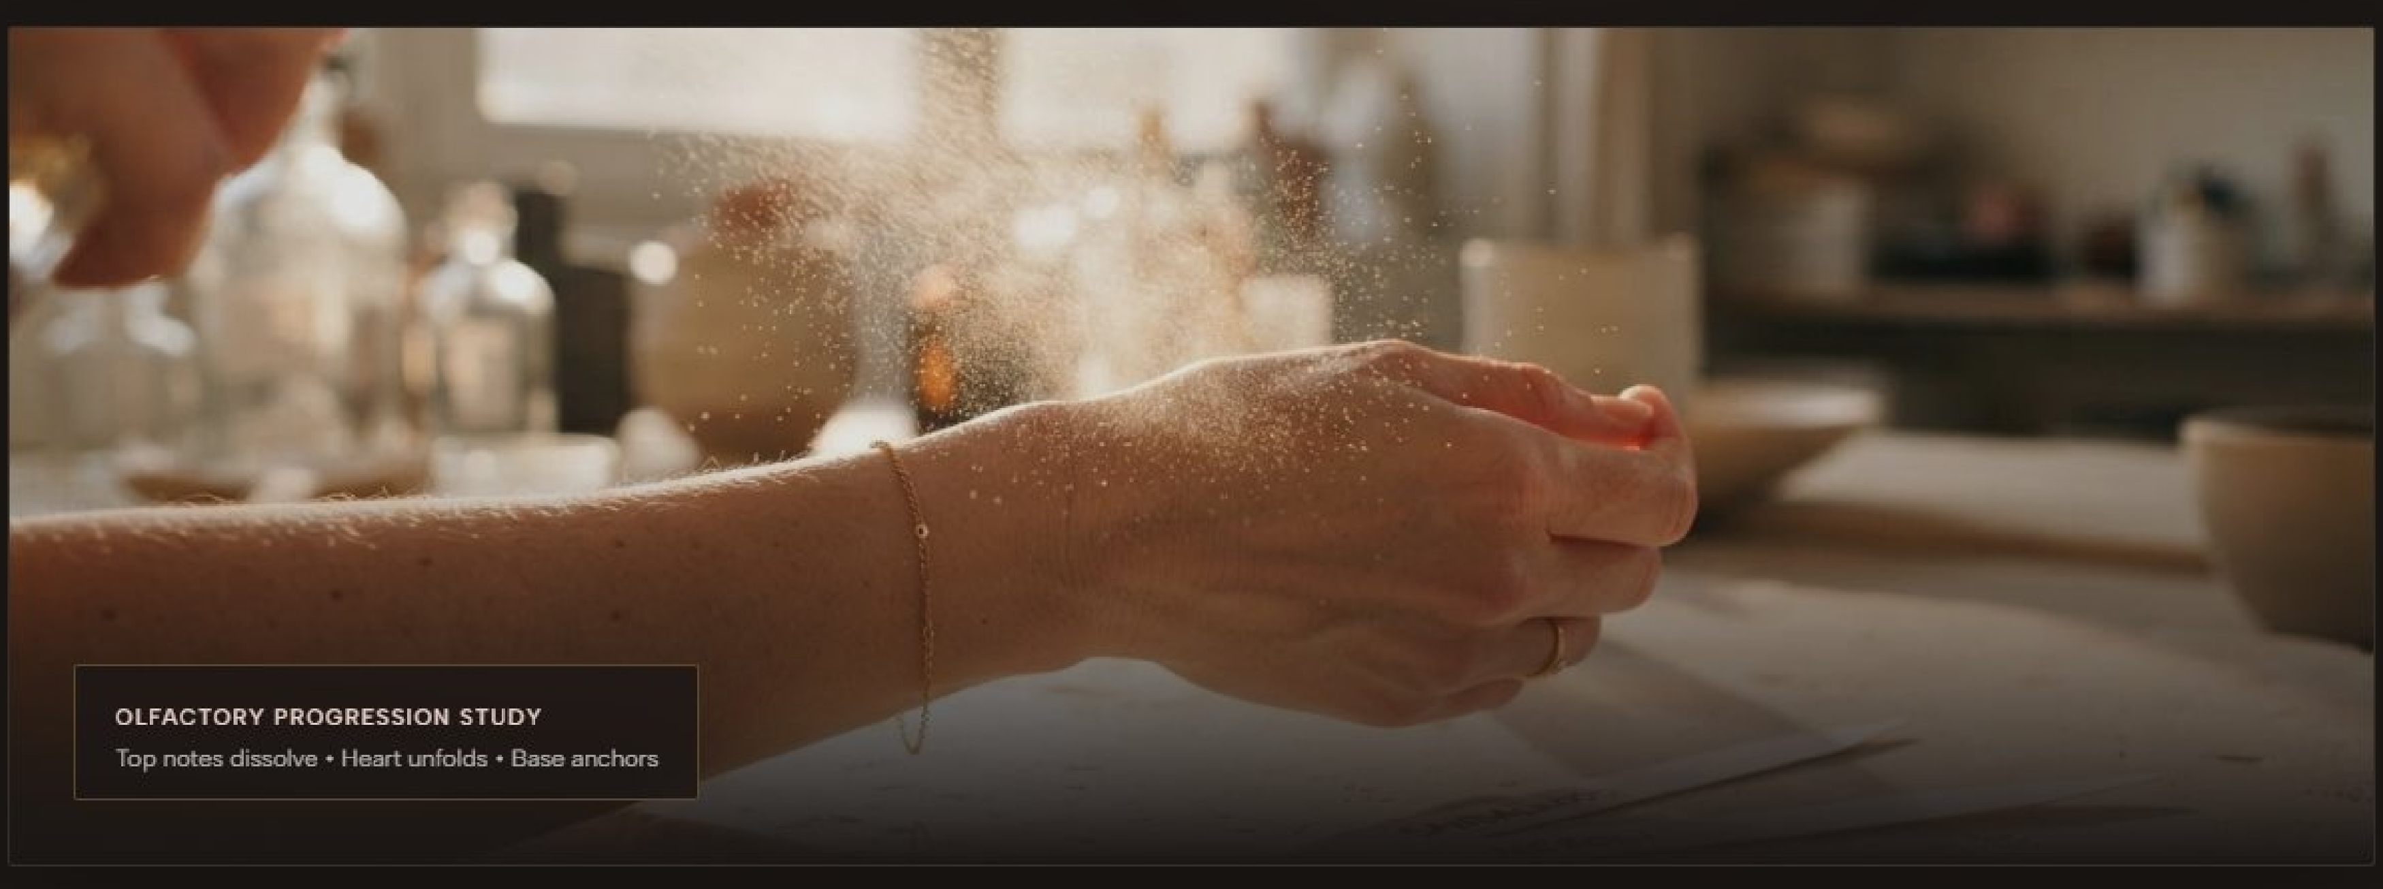
THE TRI-PHASE SKIN TEST

Why we choose what we choose

Every candidate gets three tests: how it opens, how it lives on skin by lunch, and how it feels at dusk.



OLFACTORY PROGRESSION STUDY

Top notes dissolve • Heart unfolds • Base anchors

09:00 AM • PHASE I

Morning

The first impression

Volatile citrus, sharp herbs and airy aldehyde top notes that captivate instantly in the first 15 minutes.

01:30 PM • PHASE II

Afternoon

The heart of the scent

White florals, spices, and green woods blooming as skin temperature warms the formula over working hours.

08:00 PM • PHASE III

Evening

What stays behind

Quiet amber, sandalwood, soft musks and resinous depths that linger on clothes and collarbones until dawn.

THE RESIDENT KEEPERS

The people behind the counter

Meet the four of us.

MEET US IN STORE

Amelia Hartley

FOUNDER & HEAD PERFUMER-CURATOR

Amelia opened bonza after ten years of training her nose across small fragrance houses, and she personally approves every bottle on the shelf.

Rahim Qureshi

SENIOR SCENT CONSULTANT

Rahim has a gift for turning a vague mood or memory into a short list of perfumes you'll love.

Noor Ellison

GIFTING & EVENTS STYLIST

Noor designs bonza's gift sets, hand-tied ribbons and seasonal tables.

Daniel Okafor

BRAND RELATIONS MANAGER

Daniel travels to meet the independent houses we stock and makes sure every story behind a bottle is true.

02 DIURNAL & NOCTURNAL PROFILES

Everyday or evening?

A light cologne for the office, a deeper perfume for the night. We stock both, and we'll help you choose.

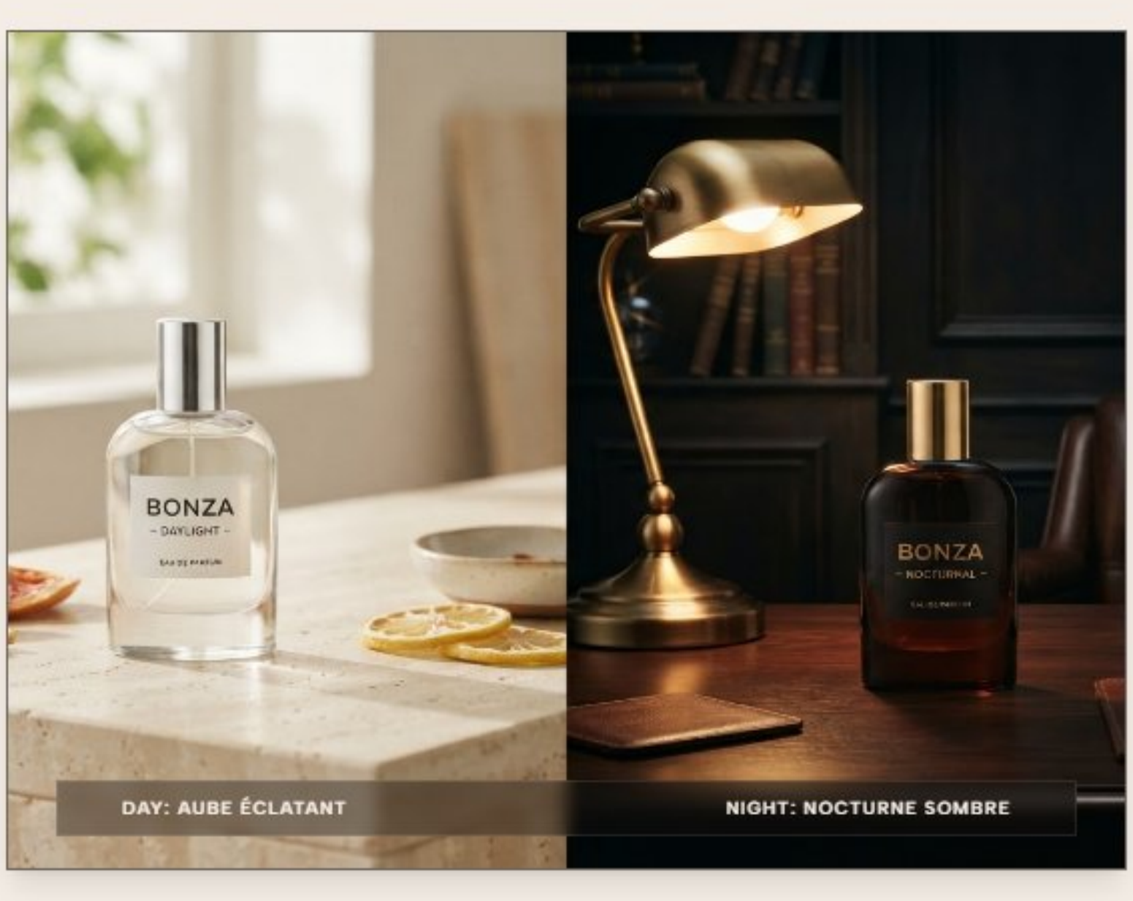
08:00 — 17:00

Daytime

FRESH, CRISP, LIGHT

Airy citrus and clean minerals that breathe naturally through meetings and sunlit walks without overpowering small spaces.

GRAPEFRUIT · SEA SALT · MINT



DAY: AUBE ÉCLATANT NIGHT: NOCTURNE SOMBRE

18:00 — LATE

Evening

WARM, WOODY, DEEPER

Resinous amber, smoky incense, and warm tonka accords that linger close to jacket lapels as the room quietens down.

OUD · BOURBON · SMOKED SUEDE

> "Scent is anchored by human heat, not abrasion."
> — MASTER DISTILLER RAHIM

03 APPLICATION RITUAL

Make it last

Spray on pulse points, keep away from sunlight, and don't rub your wrists together.

Pulse points
WRISTS, NECK, INNER ELBOWS

Arteries circulate closest to skin surfaces here, producing rhythmic warmth that continually radiates the perfume's middle and base notes throughout the day.

Store it cool
AWAY FROM HEAT AND LIGHT

Ultraviolet rays and bathroom humidity decompose natural botanicals. Protect your flacons in shaded dressing drawers or their original archival card boxes.

Less is more
TWO TO THREE SPRAYS

Resist crushing olfactory molecules by vigorously frictioning wrists. Allow fine droplets to naturally evaporate and bind to your personal skin chemistry.

04 ARTISANAL PRESENTATION

A gift he'll actually wear

Travel sets and boxed cologne, wrapped by hand.

THE OLFACTORY COMPENDIUM

How to choose a perfume you'll love

A short, friendly guide to scent families, notes and finding your own.

PLATE NO. 01 — RAW ACCORDS

Fanned olfactory blotters on aged limestone with rose, cedar shavings, citrus peel & cinnamon.

EXHIBIT 01 · STUDIO PARIS

TAXONOMY / CHAPTER ONE

The four families

Most fragrances belong to one of four families, and many are a blend. Explore each horizon to understand your affinity.

I EAU FLORALE

Floral

Romantic, soft, bright. Rose, jasmine, peony. Elicits daylight blossoms and tender green dew.

ROSE · JASMINE · PEONY

II BOISÉ

Woody

Warm, grounded, calm. Cedar, sandalwood, vetiver. Anchors the spirit in ancient timber and dried earth.

CEDAR · SANDALWOOD · VETIVER

III HELM & AGRUMES

Fresh

Clean, sparkling, light. Citrus, sea air, green leaves. Immediate effervescence evoking brisk coastal sun.

BERGAMOT · SEA AIR · PEPPERCORN

IV AMBRÉ & ÉPICÉ

Oriental

Rich, spiced, glowing. Amber, vanilla, incense. Deep warmth with velvet resin and opulent twilight mystery.

AMBER · VANILLA · FRANKINCENSE

EVOLUTION OVER TIME

Top, heart, base

A perfume unfolds in layers. Top notes appear first, heart notes after a few minutes, and base notes linger for hours.

PHASE I · DAWN
Morning Luminescence (0–15m)

PHASE II · ZENITH
Amber Midday Bloom (15m–3h)

PHASE III · DUSK
Twilight Dry-Down (3h+)

CHRONOLOGICAL LIGHT STUDY — PHOTOGRAPHIC TRIPTYCH ACROSS ONE DIURNAL CYCLE

01

0–15 MINUTES

Top Notes

Citrus, herbs, light fruit. The first breath upon skin; volatile molecules that greet the senses with radiant freshness before yielding.

CALABRIAN LEMON · PETITGRAIN

BEHAVIORAL NATURE
Radiant, rapid evaporation, bright overture.

02

15 MINUTES – 3 HOURS

Heart Notes

Florals, spice, green notes. The true identity of the blend as body warmth awakens the complex floral and botanical core.

DAMASK ROSE · CARDAMOM

BEHAVIORAL NATURE
Harmonic equilibrium, botanical character.

03

3 HOURS & BEYOND

Base Notes

Woods, musk, amber, vanilla. The enduring signature anchored into skin and garments that lingers gently until dawn.

MYSORE SANDALWOOD · GREY AMBER

BEHAVIORAL NATURE
Fixative weight, slow sillage, memory imprint.

PRACTICE / CHAPTER TWO

Five tips for choosing

Test on skin, not just paper. Wait twenty minutes. Try only three at a time. Smell coffee beans or your sleeve to reset. Sleep on it.

RESET MEDIUM · 04

A ceramic vessel of roasted beans clears sensory palate between applications.

THE QUIET ATELIER
Unhurried evaluation over warm infusion.
We allot time for fragrance to breathe without distraction.

01 Test on skin

EPIDERMAL SYNTHESIS

Chemistry changes everything. Fragrance reacts to your skin's unique pH, warmth and natural oils. While paper strips offer an initial portrait, only your pulse points reveal how the composition will genuinely sing.

02 Wait

THE 20-MINUTE RULE

Let it settle for twenty minutes. Give top notes time to soften into the authentic heart. First impressions are driven by volatile citrus and alcohols; the real character waits patiently underneath.

03 Three at a time

OLFACTORY CEILING

More confuses your nose. Your olfactory receptors saturate quickly—limit tastings. Three distinct perfumes allow comparison without sensory fatigue clouding judgment.

04 Reset

PALETTE RECOVERY

Smell your sleeve or roasted coffee beans. Unscented natural wool or roasted beans recalibrate the olfactory receptors by neutralizing residual aromatic compounds.

05 Sleep on it

OVERNIGHT RESONANCE

Love it tomorrow too. Live with the dry-down overnight to know if it belongs in your life. The morning whisper on your collar is the truest proof of intimacy.

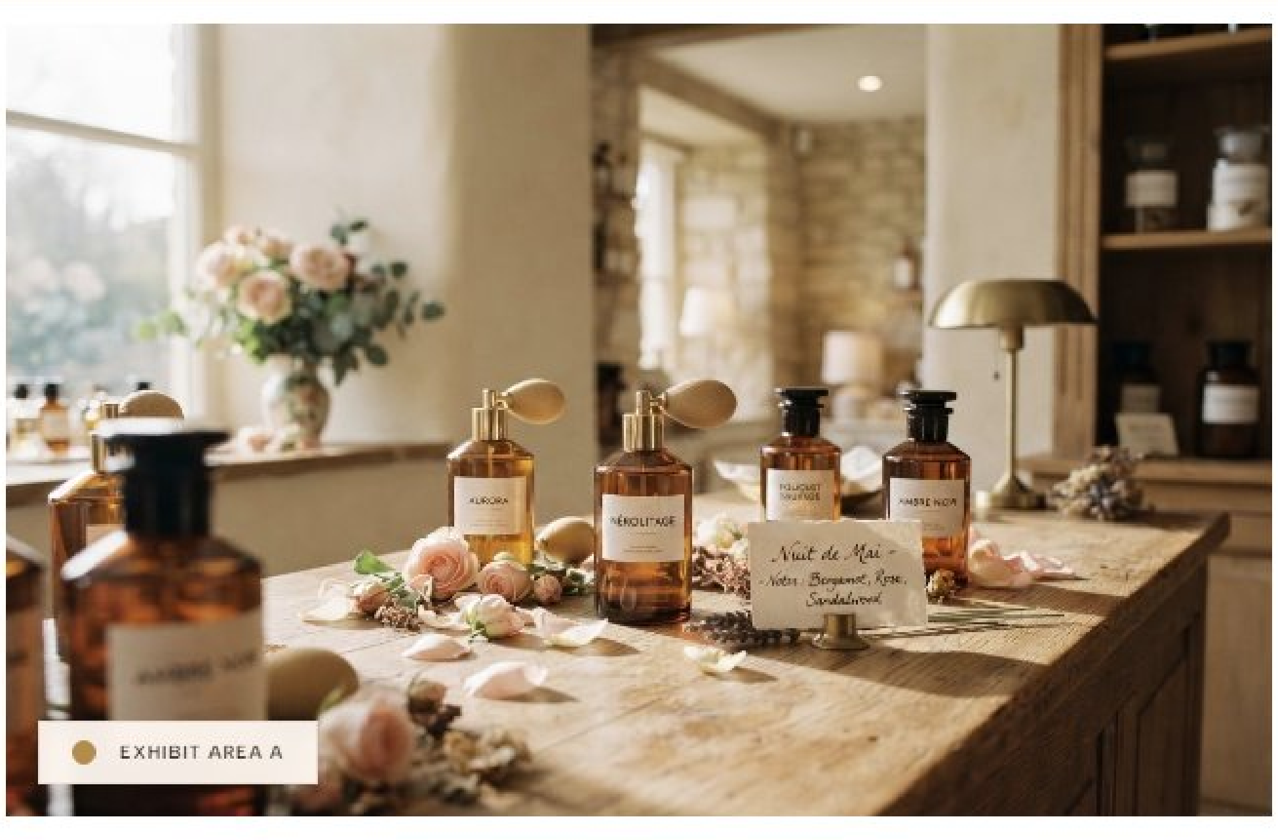
THE ATELIER SPACE / INTERIOR ARCHIVE

What's waiting inside

Marble shelves, a tea table, a gift-wrap bar and a sofa for slow decisions.



The scent counter

BLOTTER ARCHIVE

Honied limestone and antique brass plinths where every flacon breathes under warm morning light. Take home fanned blotter strips handwritten with each perfume accord.

The gift bar

COMPLIMENTARY WRAPPING

Fine raw silk ribbons, deckle-edge cards, and sealing wax applied by hand for every gift flacon.

The tea table

PALATE RECOVERY

Warm infusions and resting sofas to clear your senses while waiting for perfume heart notes to awaken on skin.

PRIVATE SENSORY SESSION

Prefer a dedicated smelling companion?

Book a complimentary twenty-minute session with Rahim or Amelia. We'll pour warm tea and explore scents curated to your personal memory landscape.
